The City of Alexandria needs your feedback!

The Information Technology Services Department of the City of Alexandria is in the early stages of updating its online system of interactive maps to be more meaningful, usable, and interactive for the community.

We need your input! Participate in a brief, hands-on exploration of the system prototype to help us in our development of this tool for potential users.

Several opportunities for participation will be made available in the coming weeks. More information on the project can be found by visiting www.alexandriava.gov/GIS.

Interested in participating? Contact Katherine Carraway, 703.746.3855 or Katherine.Carraway@alexandriava.gov.

Scan the QR Code with your mobile device to learn more, or visit www.alexandriava.gov/GIS.

Visit us online at:

www.alexandriava.gov/GIS

March 2014